Research Questions:

Directions - Create a list of questions you will answer during your research project. Start with the main questions and then add additional questions as you learn more about your topic. You will update this list throughout your project.

For all 3 question areas, you might consider:

- Who (people, organizations) is affecting events?
- What other countries are involved?
- What do you need to learn about to better understand the notes you've taken so far?
